Farmington Pest Control and Extermination Services:

Ant Pest Control: Ants are often attracted to crumbs and food particles that can end up on your floor and counters. Ants can not only become a disturbance in the kitchen and other areas of the home, they can also cause significant damage to the wood. Legacy professionals will spray for a variety of ant types in their most common entry points and living areas, such as windows and baseboards.

Small Rodent Control: Small rodents such as squirrels, bats, mice, and rats can not only be frightening to encounter in your home, but also carry diseases which can cause illness in your pets and family members. Our professionals will access your small rodent concern, including their entry point and eradicate the problem while providing insight on small rodent prevention.

Bedbug Pest Control: Bedbug infestations can spread quickly and can cause itchiness, bites, and overall lack of proper sleep. After containing the bedbugs, our pest control specialists will treat the whole room to remove all bed bugs as well as their larvae.

Cockroach Pest Control: Cockroaches are typically spotted at night or in dark places of the home and can be disturbing to come across. Cockroaches are known for their difficulty in being removed and typically store bought treatments will be ineffective. As these infestations can multiply rapidly, it is important to contact one of our trained professionals, who will solve you cockroach infestation effectively.

Earwig Pest Control: While earwigs pose no long-term or immediate problems, the idea of a pest that may try to burrow into your ear can be terrifying to find in your home. These pests enjoy inhabiting areas with a water source, such as kitchen and bathrooms. Legacy Pest professionals will spray your home's points of entry with people and pet friendly sprays.

Silverfish Pest Control: These pests typically enjoy moist areas and feed on carbohydrates. Their favorite food source includes damp clothing, book glue, shampoos, and paper to feed their need for starches and sugar. Having a professional exterminator spray for these pests upon the first sighting will help to prevent an infestation and also show significant improvement after the first treatment.

Spider Pest Control: While many varieties of spiders are harmless, encountering them can still be frightening for many people. Since there are a few breeds of spiders that can cause illness and even death, most homeowners wish to eradicate their spider problem to avoid the risk. Using family and pet safe sprays, the Legacy Pest Specialists will help remove your spider problem while helping to prevent more.

Termite Pest Control: Termite infestation can be one of the most damaging pest problems you can encounter in a home or business. Termites can destroy the wood in your home, making areas unsafe and creating extremely costly home repairs. Our professionals will assess the damage, remove the termite infestation, and advise on any repairs that may be necessary.
