Our Treatment Process for Commercial Rodent Pest Control

With Legacy Pest Control, there aren't concerns about treatments affecting your business for rodent pest control. Our process is gentle, yet effective. We offer green products that are safe and compliant with your business environment. Even restaurants and supermarkets can carry on providing service to your customers. We can schedule our service outside your hours of operation.

Here, we use solutions that are fitting to each client's special situation. Treatments depend on the what it's for, the severity of infestation, and the type of plan. We conduct general maintenance four times a year. For pest or rodent problems, we use a few steps in our basic process.

1. Inspect

We use our skills and tips like the ones above. From there we can to identify rodent problems and the type of rodent.

2. Treat Infestations

Depending on what rodent has invaded your business, we set up a treatment plan. Your commercial space may need internal treatment, external, or both. Depending on how bad your infestation is, you may also need more than one round of treatment.

3. Identify and fill holes

Rodents can enter the home through surface cracks, wall holes, or holes in floors. They either use holes that were there or make their own. Mice and rats can chew their way through. Our experts have the training to identify these openings and fix them. We use material like seals, plugs, and caulk to secure your business and keep annoying rodents out.

4. Set rodent monitors and traps

Certain areas of your business are more prone to pest problems. We'll set up extra guards and traps in kitchens, bathrooms, and storage areas.
