Cottonwood Heights Pest Control And Extermination Services

Legacy Pest Control is capable of treating your property for any type of pest, including:

Ants

There are several kinds of ants in Utah that can infest your home or business, and some of them can do damage to your property. Our technicians can identify where they are entering and hiding and treat those areas with effective commercial products

Termites

These harmful insects can do serious damage to the wood frame of your structure before you even know they are there, resulting in costly repairs. An expert inspection can locate them so they can be eliminated quickly.

Cockroaches

The most common of pests, cockroaches can carry harmful diseases and are extremely difficult to eradicate. Over-the-counter treatments often aren't effective. We have commercial-grade products that work to banish them completely.

Bedbugs

Once almost wiped out in the U.S. these insects are now a major problem across the nation. They feed on your blood while you're asleep and leave ugly, itchy welts. Bedbugs typically require treatment by a professional pest control company.

Earwigs

Even though Earwigs aren't harmful, they are a serious nuisance that can't be ignored. Our technicians will spray thoroughly to kill them and remove the outside elements that can attract them.

Rodents

Rats and mice are common in Utah homes and businesses and they are anything but cute. They harbor fleas and other parasites that carry disease, invade stored food, chew on furniture and other items, and create messy nests. But they can be controlled with proper procedures.

Silverfish

These little creatures go largely unnoticed because they are nocturnal and they're good at hiding. But Silverfish can cause a lot of damage over time to your possessions. A knowledge of their habits is necessary to eliminate them.
